

THE SENSIBLE WAY TO HELP A FRIEND

When a friend needs a loan, you want to help, of course. And the helpful thing to do is—suggest that he bring his problem to us. In wartime, just as in peacetime, we still make a business of solving problems that call for extra money.

Girl Scout Week Being Observed Throughout County

Girl Scout Week for 1944 opened on Sunday with the appearance in their own churches of hundreds of Girl Scouts and Brownie Scouts in uniform.

The Scout's Own Service at Beatty School at 4 p. m. was well attended in spite of the fine weather which offered many inducements for other activities. An encouraging number of parents was present.

Mrs. Robert Carlson, president of the Warren County Girl Scout Leaders' Association, welcomed a group of Girl Scouts with their secretary, Miss Barbara Lesser, and told the audience of the seven service days of Girl Scout Week.

Monday is Homemaking Day when Girl Scouts will do some extra piece of service at home which will give to their mothers an opportunity to rest or to enjoy themselves. Tuesday is Citizenship Day. Warren County Girl Scout Troops will bring their gifts for the Needlework Guild to the Girl Scout office on that day.

Wednesday is Health and Safety Day. Special care in crossing streets, a survey of their homes for possible hazards will occupy the girls on that day.

On Thursday, International Friendship Day, girls will look for an opportunity to show kindness to the girls from other countries who may be in our communities. Friday, Arts and Crafts Day will find girls busy themselves with materials, mending, designing, or making articles from wood, cloth, clay or other non-critical materials.

Saturday is Out-of-Doors Day. Hikes, picnics, and all the other fun of the open air with its health giving factors will be featured on this day.

Mrs. C. Vance Weld, commissioner of Warren County Girl Scouts, presided and introduced Chester Seymour, executive of the Warren County Boy Scouts, who spoke to the adults concerning the importance of Girl Scout and Boy Scout training today and the service of the volunteers who make it possible. To the girls, Mr. Seymour stressed the importance of little things and carried his points with a number of good stories illustrating that no trifle is unimportant and that every tremendous undertaking is really the total of a vast number of small things.

Members of Girl Scout Troop 2, Grace Methodist church formed the color guard. Senior Girl Scouts from Troop 7, Headquarters Troop, and Troop 10, Emanuel Reformed church, gave a ceremony based on the days of Girl Scout Week.

Mrs. B. J. Messerly, public relations chairman of the Warren County Girl Scout Council, announced radio programs over the networks which will devote a portion of their programs to Girl Scouting this week.

Group singing was accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd Palmer at the piano. Lorna Mae Hulings played the trumpet echo of Taps at the close of the meeting.

Members of Girl Scout Troop 19, First Lutheran church, served as ushers for the meeting, which was arranged by Mrs. Harold Blair and Mrs. John Wolstencroft.

Country Club Square Dance Happy Affair

Approximately 100 people were present at the Halloween dinner and square dance at the Conewango Valley Country Club Saturday night. Contributing greatly to the success of the party was the number of out of town guests and new members present. Following the eight o'clock dinner, square dancers swung around to typical "country dance" music and a gay time was had by all.

Credit for the clever Halloween decorations goes to Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Beckley, Mr. and Mrs. Todd Siggins and Mrs. Charles Blackman. Ed Johnson was general chairman of the party.

Entertaining before the party were Mr. and Mrs. Hans Swane, Market street, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kopf at their summer home on the Warren-Jamestown Road. E. W. Johnson entertained at the club.

Farm Show Week to Open January 9th

While there is no expectation of resuming pre-war State Farm Show exhibits and contests in the Army-held 13-acre Farm Show Building near Harrisburg for at least six months or perhaps a year after the war, plans have been made by representatives of a score of state-wide farm organizations to hold their annual meetings here January 9, 10 and 11, to be known as State Farm Show Week.

Members of the State Farm Show Commission told the delegates, who comprise the State Farm Show Committee, that conversion of the Farm Show building to Army service needs has been such as to require an extended time to reconstruct it to Farm Show use.

They said there was no indication as to how soon after the war the building could be turned back to the State by the Army. Responsibility for restoration of the property to Farm Show use rests with the Army, it was explained.

Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst, chairman of both the Farm Show Commission and the Farm Show Committee, emphasized that the wartime type of farm show program would continue for the duration, although the Farm Show Building is not available, even for meetings.

The official opening of the 1943 Farm Show Week was set by the Committee for Tuesday evening, January 9. Several farm organizations will start meetings that afternoon. It is expected that possibly 25 state-wide groups will convene during the week, using local assembly halls and hotels for meeting places. More than 20 met last January for the 1944 Farm Show Week, the second wartime program outside the Farm Show Building.

The Pennsylvania Country Life Association has been elected to membership on the State Farm Show Committee, a group composed of elected delegates from 35 agricultural organizations.

Many farm experts believe that post-war farm real estate values will not rise to as high a peak as in 1920, despite present inflationary movement.

Hallowe'en Carnival Is Great Success

The annual Hallowe'en carnival staged last week by the North Warren Civic Club attracted a large crowd to the community house Saturday evening for the closing events on the interesting program. The children's masquerade parade in the afternoon proved a happy event for the little tots and the adults who turned out for the occasion.

During the evening awards were made to the following: Cedar chest given by the Homemakers, Mrs. Nick Helm, Warren; iron, Mrs. O. E. Loper, North Warren; clock, Andy Natale, Youngville; $300 bond, L. R. Spanos, Corry; $100 bonds to Stanley Danielson and Maude Bright, Warren; 50 bonds to Mrs. E. J. Kieffer, Warren; Leona Mesler, Warren; D. R. Rausch, Punxsutawney; Tom Siffen, Clarendon; $25 bonds to Al Lasher, Youngville; Ross Brecht, North Warren; Richard Watnuff, Warren and Mrs. H. A. Johanson, North Warren.

The committee takes this means of expressing sincere appreciation for interest and assistance shown by a large number of patrons in North Warren and surrounding communities without which the carnival would not have been the success that it was.

Cars Crash On Route 327; One Is Injured

Norman L. Handy, 15, of Pleasantville RD 3, will be arrested by State Police as the result of an auto accident which occurred about 7:15 p. m. Sunday on Route 327, 16 miles south of Tidoute in Harmony township, Forest county.

Handy, driving a 1932 Chevrolet sedan, was going south when he met head-on with a '36 Plymouth sedan operated by Edward Mack Mooney, 31, also of RD 3, Pleasantville, going north. Handy will be charged with operating a motor vehicle without learner's permit or operator's license, although Pvt. P. N. Marino, investigating, states both drivers were evidently too near the center of the highway.

Damage to Handy's car, estimated at $100, indicated a front wheel and fender smashed, broken axle and twisted frame. The same damages to Mooney's car, plus a running board and left front door smashed in, brought his total to $200.

Richard L. Ames, 14, of the same address, was riding in Mooney's car and received a cut on his head that required five stitches to close in the Titusville Hospital.

You Save tin cans...

You Save old magazines...

...but do You Save your DOLLARS

"Sure," most folks will answer. "Every-one knows we should save money."

The question is: "Do you save your money?"

Are you really giving as much day-by-day thought to planned saving and to planned spending as you are to the salvage of waste paper and tin cans? Are you as careful about putting extra dimes in the bank as you are about putting waste fats in the grease can?

If you are not, you are letting down your Country. You are letting down YOURSELF.

Planned spending and planned saving are so important today. Together, they help hold down the cost of living... they help insure a strong America with jobs paying worth while dollars after the war... they give you a financial backlog when present war jobs cease... they give you dollars to spend for worth while things when the right time for spending comes. Be realistic. Take a pencil and work out on paper your plan for spending, your plan for saving.

Think it over, Mr. and Mrs. America. Planned spending and planned saving are a war job—just as much of a war job as work in a munitions factory.

And you are loafing on the job if you are spending needlessly

... if you fail to buy War

Bonds steadily... if you are not saving regularly at your bank.

Help the nation's efforts to keep your living costs DOWN, the buying power of your dollar UP.

ELKS TO PAY TRIBUTE

Members of the Warren Lodge of Elks will meet this evening at 7:15 o'clock to go in a body to pay respects to the late Alfred L. Schellhammer.

WILL MEET WEDNESDAY

Wednesday evening Warren Lodge of the Moose will hold their regular meeting. The Women of the Moose will meet the same evening and following the meetings a fish fry will be enjoyed.

PLAYHOUSE BURNED

Firemen were called to the South Side playgrounds last evening at 7:06 where a shelter over sand boxes burned. From all appearances, according to the firemen, someone had built a bonfire in the middle of the sandbox and the mounting flames did the rest. The shelter was destroyed.

CHANGES POSITION

Homer W. Fleming, former Physical Education instructor at Beatty Junior High School and athletics coach, will take up his duties as Physical Instructor at the Community Y. M. C. A. in West Springfield, Massachusetts. Mr. Fleming has been in the Physical Department at the Vineland, N. J. High School.

FIREMEN HAD RUN

Firemen had a run Friday evening about 9:30 to the plant of the Paramount Furniture Company in Pleasant township. Lumber near a motor had caught fire. The firemen on arrival at the scene had some difficulty in locating the fire but soon had it extinguished. The sprinkler system at the plant was in operation and there was some water damage.

THINGS WERE QUIET

Things for the police officers over the weekend were quiet, decidedly so. A group of young people baying at the moon on their way home from a Halloween party in the wee, small hours Saturday morning had to be squelched; one drunk was given a sista and a small auto collision at Hickory and Penn Saturday afternoon with a few trips to the bank broved almost the sum total of the efforts of the "finest".

NOTICE—ELKS!

Chungking, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Japanese troops sweeping southward from their base at Kiyang have advanced 80 miles in eight days and captured the Hunan communications center of Ningyuan, 110 miles east of the Kwangsi province, capital of Kweilin, the Chinese high command announced today.

WAR NOT OVER, THOUSANDS WILL FIGHT YET!

The Power of the Allied Armies and Navies and of the Sylvania Electric Products Inc. must continue to be built up. We are all proud of that power. It must be held strong enough to safeguard our fighting men and to win victory all along the line.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

- 1—The Sylvania is engrossed in JUST ONE big job—the 100% task of turning out electronic equipment for the fighting services?
- 2—It's a job that keeps us busy... and short-handed?
- 3—We can use every available woman in this county—women who are true red-blooded Americans anxious to back up their loved ones?
- 4—It's a job you'll like. Clean, light work. Conditions in the plant 100% perfect. Plenty of light, plenty of fresh air. Music every few minutes and a magnificent cafeteria with low food costs?

New Pastor Coming Into Local Field From Massachusetts

Rev. Hans Pearson, who comes west to assume charge of the Sheffield and Ludlow Lutheran parishes about November 1, has been at Bethesda Swedish Evangelical Lutheran church in Springfield, Mass., for the past 25 years. His duties have also included the pastorate of Gustav Adolphus Evangelical Lutheran church in East Longmeadow and his resignation with both churches is effective October 31.

Reporting that he and his family would be honored at a farewell in their Springfield church, the Union and Republican in that city says of him:

Rev. Mr. Pearson was born in Sweden on November 27, 1883. As a young man of 20 he journeyed to America with the express purpose of becoming a minister of the gospel. He had no relatives or friends here and it helped tremendously that he already had some knowledge of the English language. Immediately enrolling in the Augustana college and Theological seminary at Rock Island, Ill., he graduated from the college in 1910 with an AB degree and three years later was ordained, receiving his BD degree from the seminary. His first three years of service were in Brockton. Edith Nelson, a charming and pretty young church worker "caught my eye" (as Mr. Pearson expalined with a twinkle in his eye). The couple were married on Thanksgiving Day, November 27, 1913, the pastor's 30th birthday. The Pearsons have three attractive children, Helen, 29; Gloria, 19, and Grace, 18.

After serving three years in Orange, following his Brockton pastorate, Mr. Pearson accepted the invitation to be the eighth pastor of the Bethesda Swedish Evangelical Lutheran church, Springfield, and the Gustav Adolphus Swedish Evangelical Lutheran church, East Longmeadow.

Mr. Pearson preached his initial sermon at the mother church September 7, 1919. With the amiable and industrious new minister at the helm, Thanksgiving Day, 1923, became outstanding for a 17-year-old debt was wiped out. He again officiated at the burning of a mortgage (10 years old) on Easter Sunday, 1943. Today, both churches are free of debt due mainly to Rev. Pearson's prodigious labor. The combined membership of the two Pennsylvania parishes is about the same as that of the Springfield church. Sheffield and Ludlow are about seven miles apart and are located in the northwestern part of the state, being approximately 13 miles from Warren, Pa., and about 35 miles from Jamestown, New York.

Obituary

Unless otherwise stated, visiting hours at Warren's funeral homes are from 10 a. m. to 12; 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m.

CORA RUHLMAN WEILER

Funeral services in memory of Mrs. Cora Ruhlman Weiler, widow of Elias Weiler, were held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday from her home on Yankee Bush, conducted by Rev. J. C. Wygant, pastor of the First Evangelical church. Rev. Philip Schlick, accompanied by Miss Margery Randall, both of Russell, sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere". Bearers for interment in the Mead cemetery were Frank Kafferlin, Clair and Franklin Mead, Russ Ruhlman, Anthony Weiler and Webster Sechrist.

Those who came from out of town were Hyatt Ruhlman, Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Ruhlman; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kafferlin; Mrs. Paul Kafferlin, Spring Creek; Mrs. Genevieve Campbell, Butler; Richard Ruhlman, Navy V-12, University of Kentucky, Louisville.

MRS. SUSAN A. DUNKLE

Mrs. Susan A. Dunkle, widow of John W. Dunkle, former lawyer of Warren and Pittsburgh, entered into rest at 8:45 Friday morning, October 27, at her home, 602 1/2 Market street.

Mrs. Dunkle was born January 26, 1864, at Eckmansville, O., daughter of Sarah R. Dillon and Samuel P. Dillon. Mr. and Mrs. Dunkle came as bride and groom to North Clarendon in September, 1883, afterward moving to Warren. She was a member of the Presbyterian church here under the pastorate of Dr. J. K. Smith and later became a member of the Highland Avenue Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, under the pastorate of Dr. Fisher. She was loyal and regular in her attendance at church services. Her household had her special interest. She was of a friendly nature and her Christian living blessed all those with whom she came in contact.

Surviving her are her son, Wesley Earle Dunkle, of Anchorage, Alaska, a daughter, Maria Mildred Dunkle, Pine Rock, Conn.; the following sisters: E. Agnes Dillon, Junetta S. Dillon, Washington, D. C.; M. Ethel Dillon, Philadelphia; Anna Dillon, who was living with Mrs. Dunkle at the time of her death; also the following grandchildren: William Dunkle, with the Air Corps at the coast; John H. Dunkle, instructor in the Air Corps at Selman Field, Monroe, La.; Pfc. Susan Elizabeth Dunkle, WAC, Miami, Fla.; Irene May Dunkle, Pittsburgh; John D. Dunkle, HAAF Lemore Field, Calif. and Bruce Dunkle, Anchorage, Alaska.

Funeral services in her memory were held at the Lutz Funeral Home at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, conducted by Dr. Harold C. Warren, minister of First Presbyterian church. Committal services were held this morning at ten o'clock at Mount Royal cemetery, Glenshaw, Pittsburgh.

THOMAS S. FARRELL, Jr.

Services were held for Thomas S. Farrell, Jr., at 2:30 p. m. Friday from the Peterson Funeral Home. The Rev. Wayne Furman, of the First Methodist church, conducted the rites. Interment was in the family plot in Oakland cemetery.

Dinsmoor-Schwung Post No. 631, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was in charge of full military ritual at the grave. Active bearers were Leo Weidert, Edward Mason, Charles Lord, Homer Fitch, Jack Pring and Ernest Stewart. Honorary bearers, fellow workers at the Newell Press, were Emmett Ecklund, Ray Lewis, Robert Carlson, Donald Zibbille, Clifford Ryberg and Burdette Hook. Color bearers were Hjalmer Forsgren and Charles Mason; color guards, Leo Schuler and Blair Thompson. The firing squad from Chief Cornplanter Post, No. 135, American Legion, was composed of Melvin Keller, Donald McComas, Walter Johnson, Ben Kinnear, Harry Nelson, C. D. Cannon and Sherman Bisson. Louis Hartweg, James Casses and Ralph Arters were buglers.

Attending the services from a distance were the following relatives: Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Quinn, Miss Edna Quinn, Franklin; Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Secor, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Jewell, Buffalo, N. Y.; Pauline K. Scherer, Olean, N. Y.

How Government Cares For Mentally Disabled War Vet

(Editor's note: This story relates to veterans found mentally incompetent to take care of themselves financially.)

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 30.—(AP)—If he's drawing government pay—pension, insurance or retirement pay—the government protects the money interests of an insane war veteran.

And if they are getting government money as a result of his military service, this protection also extends to

1. A veteran's insane survivors or dependents.
2. A veteran's minor children. The government doesn't make payments to minor children.

The protection starts with the Veterans Administration (VA) guardianship service. It was established by law in 1926. It works like this:

Private Jones is released from military service as mentally disabled. For that disability, he asks for a pension. Or someone asks for him.

His request goes to a special VA rating board which includes a doctor and lawyer. The board could call him in personally. But most of the time it makes its decision on his military medical record.

The board decides he is mentally incompetent and is entitled to a pension. This information is given to the chief attorney in the VA regional office nearest Jones' home.

If the attorney decides that Jones can handle his funds in a reasonably prudent manner, he is paid directly by the VA whatever pension is due him.

But if the attorney decides that Jones is mentally incapable of handling his money, then a way is sought to make the payments so he will benefit by them.

The payments may be made to his wife, if she is found "suitable," to quote one VA official. If the wife is found unsuitable, or if there is no wife, a guardian is appointed in accordance with the state's laws.

When any survivor or dependent of a veteran—due federal pay because of his disability—is found insane, a guardian is appointed.

When storing things in the cellar, be sure they are not near a hot spot such as the furnace, or walls concealing hot pipes.

Triple Threat Facing State in Removal of Snow This Winter

Harrisburg, Oct. 30.—"Further restrictions on tires, gasoline and repair parts, have been combined to create a triple threat to carrying out our pledge to the people of Pennsylvania—that the highways of the Keystone State will be kept open throughout the winter and in a safe condition for travel." Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer said today as he reviewed the problems and handicaps that confront the Department's chief winter maintenance operation, snow removal.

"In addition," Shroyer said, "our equipment is one year older and the personnel situation has not improved. Our newest trucks are six, seven and eight years old and we have many older than this. Tractors are from nine to thirteen years old.

"More than a year ago," the Secretary said, "I told the engineers, superintendents, mechanics and garagemen in our maintenance organization our ability to function successfully depends upon the control and conservation they exercise over equipment, materials and supplies. These employees are responsible for our equipment holding out this long. They have done a wonderful job in grafting parts of

WARTIME HALLOWE'EN

Members of the North Warren Civic Club deserve a word of commendation for staging one of the most successful Halloween carnivals yet sponsored by this progressive energetic group of citizens in the nearby community. The program arranged for the three days concluding with the children's masquerade parade Saturday afternoon and the big closing night festival later, provided plenty of entertainment for old and young alike, and furnished an outlet for those inclined to celebrate to do so without resorting to acts of vandalism that too frequently have caused criticism and complaints in past years.

Halloween used to be the appointed time for stunts and pranks which ranged from queer noises that tortured the ears of victims to the moving of all kinds of supposedly immovable property from appointed places to new and inaccessible situations. During the last generation such celebrations have become increasingly rare as safer kinds of fun are provided.

But in this third year of war, it is more important than ever that the results of malicious or destructive mischief be prevented. It should be pointed out that property damage means repairs which are almost impossible to secure, and which divert material from the war effort.

Instead, cookies for the doorbell ringers, who have come to regard asking for hand-outs as funny as any gamemoving of their parents' generation; parties where excess energy is diverted into diving for apples, hide-and-seek, with prizes for the funniest costume; neighborhood excursions in the form of hikes and wienie roasts with a few parents as escorts, are enthusiastically hailed by the young people.

IMPORTANCE OF ANTWERP

The Allies have been doing a workmanlike job over the weekend in outting the Germans from bitterly disputed southwest Holland, and the task nears completion.

This means that the great port of Antwerp in neighboring Belgium shortly will be available for the movement of much needed supplies to support the Allied assault on the Siegfried defenses. Thus far the Nazi heavy artillery has been able to block shipping by commanding the estuary of the river Scheldt on which Antwerp lies.

There also has been an unusually heavy bombing of the German defenses, communications and industries in the Cologne-Arnhem Sector—the type of bombardment which precedes big offensives. So on the whole the weekend developments have been in effect reaffirmation that our Allied high command intends to launch a major drive at the earliest feasible moment. A lot, of course, depends on the opening up of Antwerp.

The officers and men in Co. I, 16th Infantry, Pennsylvania State Guard, which participated in a test mobilization Saturday evening, are to be commended for the efficient manner in which the local unit was assembled. Many of the Guardsmen are employed in war industries while still others reside in rural communities. In spite of this fact it was reported at 8:30 that 75 per cent of the Company was in uniform at the armory. It demonstrates that members of the State Guard are prepared to meet any emergency on a moment's notice.

Thousands of Warren county men and women overseas are waiting for those letters the home folks are going to write them when they find time.

News over the weekend shows that the Pacific sea battle never even nipped and tuck—just Nippon tugged away.

There are two main uses for a political platform: One party stands on it and the other jumps on it.

One good reason for liking winter better than summer is because the flies don't!

Just be patient, it won't be long until the networks will be back on regular schedules.

The song of Warren merchants as we lead up to Christmas is no lull-of-buy!

SHEFFIELD NEWS

GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts of Troop 10 Sheffield were entertained at the Recreation Hall of the Children's Home by seven ghosts on October 24 from 7 to 9.

The hosts decorated the Hall with carved pumpkins, owls, and cats. Ghost boys, old fashioned children with pantalettes, fairy dancers, society belles, old ladies, nurses, negroes, gypsies, and others made up the group.

Weird noises frightened the motley crowd for when the ghosts were located they vanished into the darkness not to appear again as such but as elves, dancers, clowns and whatnot. Three different colored parts of witches were hidden. The light lavender witch was winner. Two rows fished in a field of pumpkins for their fortune which was later read and enjoyed by the group.

Halloween charades were played. Time went so fast that refreshment time surprised us. The refreshments were two sandwiches a cup of cocoa, an orange flavored cookie and vanilla ice-cream with chocolate sauce.

Before Good Night Circle the city of the ghosts who wrote the invitation planned the party, and furnished the delicious refreshments was made known.

The Halloween Party Ghosts were Nancy Miller, Patricia Peterson, Carolyn Hanson, Margaret Chambers, Connie Huber, Lorraine Henry and Kathryn Kennedy.

We thank their leaders for their much needed assistance, also the parents who drove cars so the Girl Scouts from Roystone, and Barnes could come.

We thank Miss Hersch for the privilege of using the Recreation Hall. There were about forty Girl Scouts present.

Chapter 16
IT seemed to Cherry that she had only dozed off when she felt two small arms around her neck and heard a frantic whisper. "Wake up, Cherry! It's six o'clock and we're going through the Canal!"

She laughed as she began dressing. It was nice to have him back with her, bless him. She was going to miss Terry when this voyage was over.

The laughter died on her lips. She was back in the ship, with her duties as stewardess awaiting her. Today would be a gala day for the passengers. Last night, with her discovery that she was in love with Rory, and Douglas asking her to marry him, was nothing but a fantastic dream.

She must not let it make any difference. From now until they docked somewhere in England she would be just the stewardess again, playing her part as efficiently as she could. Above all, she must never let Rory guess—

Guess what? Her heart cried out as she adjusted her fresh white cap. Guess that she was absurdly jealous and disappointed because he had time to play with Julia—Julia who was rotten right through—so jealous she could wring Julia's pretty little neck right now?

And Douglas—she thought compassionately—Douglas imagining he was in love again, just because she had been nice to him and they were going over the ground of his one big love. Poor Douglas, he was so lovable. If only she hadn't seen Rory first, she might have been able to love Douglas as he deserved. But probably he was already regretting last night. Cherry Mayne was independent. She had always looked after herself and she'd just have to go on doing it, and succeed or fail in the Coromandel on her own merits.

ALL the same she felt oddly reluctant to enter "A" suite. She was surprised to find that Julia had gone to bed, with the curtains drawn.

Julia said crossly, "I didn't want tea. We had coffee at the hotel. Oh, you'd better leave it now you've waked me. I'll have breakfast in bed as usual. I've been through the Canal so many times it doesn't interest me. We had to get up at an unearthly hour!"

Cherry put the little mahogany bed tray in place and left the tea, saying nothing. There was nothing she could think of to say, but she could feel Julia's slanting eyes staring at her keenly. She had a sudden human wish that Rory could see Julia now, with her face thick in preserving cream and the deep, petulant lines about her mouth very ugly.

At the door she was halted by Julia's voice, crackling with curiosity and annoyance. "Did you enjoy yourself ashore?"

Cherry kept her face expressionless. "Very much, thank you, madam."

"Oh good, I'm glad. Bring my breakfast as late as you can, will you? I don't suppose I shall sleep much with that terrible noise in the locks, but I must have some rest. We're dancing nearly all night."

Little bullets, each one of them finding its billet in Cherry's heart. She could control her face and voice, but not that raw, sensitive little place where she had uprooted her newborn love. She hurried away to distribute the other trays.

Julia noticed that sudden flinch in Cherry's eyes, as if she had been struck. She thought with much satisfaction, she saw us—she must have seen us. And she thought I was alone with Rory. She must be fond of him. Clever little cat, pretending not to, so that Douglas wouldn't stay and talk with us.

SHE leaned back against the pillow, wide awake now as she sipped her tea. Fate had slipped the weapon she needed into her hands. If the girl was keen on Rory—how easy it would be to pay her out for grabbing Sir Douglas in that blatant way! The cheek of the girl, playing the poor tired little mouse in need of relaxation! She'd probably get all she could out of Douglas and then ditch him, and it would serve him damned well right for not jumping at her invitation last night. No fool like an old fool! But Cherry would have to get her dose, too.

Julia's fingers curled and uncurred on the coverlet. For three weeks she had hated Cherry, without being able to penetrate the girl's professional armor. There had been no chance to complain to the chief steward about her, or even to deprecate her to the captain, who seemed absurdly indulgent to a stewardess. She was honest, tidy, punctual, and efficient. But now—with Rory in her hands—

Julia had no doubts about Rory. He was stiff and reticent, but she knew how to deal with his type. She only had to be feminine and helpless enough, with just a touch of worldly sophistication to impress him, and he'd be eating out of her hand in no time. After all, she had influence and money. Rory, by all accounts, was fanatical about his career at sea. Well, she could do a lot to make or break the career of any young officer.

It would be simple, simple and rather amusing, she thought as she stubbed out her cigarette and composed herself to rest as well as she could, shutting her eyes and ears to the bustling outside. Rory was good-looking and impressive, and he'd be good sport. She'd kill three birds with one stone, and show them all what fools they'd been not to give her a better time in their mouldy old ship.

She dozed off with a satisfied smile on her bitter mouth.

No less coal is being produced. More is being mined than ever before—with fewer men. Mine owners and miners alike are doing a splendid job. And there are ample rail facilities for transporting coal to your city.

The Needlework Guild has been applying the "charity that helps all charities". The new garments and the money collected through its annual Garment Day are distributed among other local agencies working with those less fortunate and in need of a helping hand.

Hundreds of its garments and household items go to homes in the county through the work of the Children's Aid Society, the Visiting Nursing Association, the state nurses and the Warren Relief Association.

First Methodist WSCS Holds Fine Program Meeting

There was an unusually large attendance for the October dinner-meeting and very fine program of the First Methodist WSCS, Mrs. H. H. Barr gave the invocation as members and guests from Youngsville and other local churches were seated at tables made attractive with autumn leaves, mums and candles. Assisting Mrs. Ray Lewis and Mrs. G. R. Loeore on the committee were Mrs. C. A. Babcock, Miss Joanna Bright, Mrs. C. B. Campbell, Mrs. Gerould Ostergard, Miss Mae Wickizer and Mrs. Paul Yagge.

Mrs. E. S. Briggs, conducting the business session in Dunham parlors later, complimented the society on its splendid contribution to the overseas relief collection and thanked the workers, Mrs. A. F. Kottcamp, Marie Gutzler, Mrs. Fred A. Schuler, Mrs. Samuel Ostergard, Alfred Shattuck and P. D. Belknap.

She announced that Circle 3 will have a musical tea on November 3 and that Circles 5-6 were sponsoring a bake sale October 28 at Metzger-Wright's; also, that the following had been appointed as nominating committee to select officers: Mrs. Gerould Ostergard, Mrs. W. D. Black, Mrs. H. B. Bowersox, Miss Cecilia Burch, Miss Ida McKinney, Mrs. Schuler and Miss Ann Shepard.

After Mrs. S. E. Saylor had conducted a devotional period on the theme "In His Steps", Mrs. Alan Templeton presented Joyce Smedley, with Richard Kerr as accompanist, for three marimba selections: "Tico-Tico by Abreu, Serenade by Schubert and Santa Lucia by Harr.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Ralph Dodge, of Little Valley, N. She called attention to the fact that the Bishop's Crusade next year will mean working for Christianity throughout the world.

Mrs. Dodge's guest, Mrs. Dorothy Faucett, was accompanied by Miss Lillian Larsen for two lovely vocal numbers: A Voice in the Wilderness by Scott and Leave It With Him by Ellis. The program was concluded with the benediction by Mrs. J. J. Garber.

Carole Hay Bride Of Cpl. Neilly In New Mexico Rites

Mr. and Mrs. William K. Hay, 5 Kenmore street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Carole, to Cpl. William Reece Neilly, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Neilly, 24 Buchanan street, this city.

The ceremony was performed in the Presbyterian church at Portales, N. M., on Sunday, October 15, by Rev. Walter Lazenby, Jr., in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends.

Miss Hay was accompanied as far as Dallas, Tex., by Mrs. Robert C. Ayers and daughter, Nancy, who have gone to join Lt. Ayers.

The following concerning the wedding is taken from a Portales daily and will be of interest to the bride's many friends:

Miss Hay was attended by Miss Bettie Jean Caperton, and Cpl. Carl Moore served as best man. The bride wore light blue with black accessories and a gardenia corsage. She was given in marriage by P. R. Shaffer, of Eunice, N. M., uncle of the groom.

The wedding was followed by a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Goodloe. The refreshment table was lace covered and arranged with crystal appointments. A pink and white color plan was echoed in the flowers and tapers. The wedding cake of three tiers was topped with a miniature soldier of the United States and his bride. Mrs. P. R. Shaffer presided at the exceedingly pretty table.

Cpl. Neilly is a member of the bomber training class at Clovis and the entire crew of his bomber was in Portales for the wedding and were guests at the reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Goodloe.

The newlyweds will have their present home in the T. E. Boyd apartment.

Musical Program Features At Home

The YWCA'S October "At Home", held in the activities building on Friday afternoon, was featured by a musical program. Mrs. Carl Lundahl, president, welcomed the guests and introduced Miss Virginia Johnson who announced the selections.

Miss Dale Holcomb, accompanied by Miss Marcia Johnson, presented a vocal selection. Piano numbers played by Miss Jeanne Smith, Miss Marcia Johnson and Miss Eleanor Peters. Miss Beth Smith and Miss Virginia Johnson presented a two-piano selection.

Interest was expressed by those present for classes being offered by the education and recreation committee. As ten signatures were not procured for classes in Swedish, sewing, and evening gym activities, registration for these classes will continue this week. On November 10 the first dessert luncheon, followed by a program for young matrons will take place and details will be announced later.

Mrs. Leon Laskaris and Mrs. C. E. Briggs served on the welcoming committee and had those present sign the guest book. Mrs. Norbert Peterson was in charge of the tea-table decorations and refreshments were the responsibility of Miss Mae Wickizer and Mrs. Jesse Smith.

WOMEN OF MOOSE TO MEET WEDNESDAY

Senior Regent Augusta Anderson was in charge of the meeting of Warren Chapter, Women of the Moose, last Wednesday evening when a class of four candidates was initiated and an open program was given by the alumni chairman, Jennie Lauffenburger.

The chapter completed arrangements at this time to hold regular meetings on the first and third Wednesday of each month, coinciding with the men's lodge meeting in order to save on light and fuel costs during the winter.

The next meeting, therefore, will be on Wednesday of next week, November 1, with a tureen supper at six o'clock for all having birthdays in November and a business session at 8 p. m. All interested will be welcome to bring tureen and come to the supper.

Also on Wednesday will be afternoon entertainment by the Friendship members.

ENGAGEMENT TOLD

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Jones, of Sheffield, announce the engagement of their daughter, Vido, to Cpl. Clyde Stout, United States Marine Corps, son of Mrs. George Bradford, Salt Lake City, Utah.

At present Miss Jones is working for her father at the Jones Chevrolet, having been formerly employed by the Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester, N. Y.

Previous to joining the Marine Corps, Cpl. Stout was a student at the University of Utah. He has attended several photography schools throughout the country and at present is an aerial photographer with the Marine Signal Corps in the islands of the South Pacific.

SYLVANIA EMPLOYEES ENJOY DINNER PARTY

Fifteen employees of the Sylvania Electric Products Company enjoyed an evening together on Thursday, with dinner at the Hotel Carver. The monitor, Mrs. Gladys Mintzer, was presented with a corsage from those present in appreciation of her cooperation.

Those present were Adelaide Genberg, Sadie Harkins, Victoria Wertz, Evelyn Rhodes, Daisy Richards, Phyllis DeVore, Ella Wallace, Wilda Lane, Bessie Champion, Anne Heffernan, Edna Fitzgerald, Bernice Peterson, Helen Loomis, Mary Rudolph and Gladys Mintzer.

SUCCESSFUL PARTY FOR REBEKAHS

Lady Warren Rebekah Lodge members and friends enjoyed another successful card party on Friday evening, prizes going to the following: Ethel Dirling, Harriet Green, John Bentley, Henry Kidder, August Carlson, Myrtle Rogers and Mrs. Joseph Fraring. A special prize was won by John Gustafson.

Members of the lodge will have their regular meeting in the lodge rooms at 8 p. m. this Friday and degree staff members are asked to watch this paper for announcement of practice.

GOLDEN WEDDING OF FRANK RUDOLPHS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rudolph, 1401 Pennsylvania avenue, east, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last Wednesday, October 25, receiving many greetings and some lovely gifts.

LADIES' CLUB

The Ladies' Club of the S. F. of A. will have a meeting at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ned Johnson, 204 Seneca street, and all are urged to be in attendance.

All members and interested friends are urged to attend the monthly meeting of the Starbrick PTA, to be held at the school at 8 p. m. Wednesday, when the cut pack will be in charge of the program.

First for the LUNCH BOX!

The most important part of packing a lunch box is the bread. Whether in sandwiches or buttered to eat with other foods, it must be the kind of bread that KEEPS FRESH and retains its flavor until the lunch is eaten. You can depend upon the goodness of

"As the campaign for the liberation of nations under the Axis yoke intensifies the need for more Army hospital personnel grows by leaps and bounds. The Army Medical Department urgently requires the services of patriotic young women, for direct assignment or professional training as training as hospital technicians." Thus spoke Major General Norman T. Kirk, The Surgeon General of the United States Army, with reference to service of members of the Women's Army Corps in the medical field.

Under the Army's extensive rehabilitation program for its injured soldiers, those who join the WAC have a splendid opportunity to either put acquired skills to patriotic work, or to learn highly technical work from the most renowned men in the professional field. Positions now made available include those of optometrist, dental hygienist, occupational therapist, educational reconditioning instructor, psychiatric assistant, orthopedic technician, surgical technician, pharmacist's assistant, medical stenographer, and scores of others. Women with college degrees, or with acquired skills of similar nature, may obtain direct assignment in their fields after a short basic training period. Women without these requirements, but who have special aptitude and desire to work in the medical field, may be sent to one of the Army's technical schools and learn for a future career.

These jobs are in addition to the over 200 other jobs available to enlistees in the WAC. Positions are open in the Air Forces, the Ground Forces and the Service Forces. Women with two years of high school education, between the ages of 20 and 49 years, having no children under 14 years old, are eligible.

Cpl. Harry S. Goldstein and Pfc. Zaida Kutchal, of the Erie WAC Recruiting Office, will be in Warren on Tuesday from 2 until 9 p. m. with offices in the Y. W. C. A. They will be glad to answer your inquiries. Home appointments can be arranged by calling them.

Warren High Downs Ridgway 13-7 In Final Home Game

Sirianni, Lucia and Lee Spark Dragons in 13-7 Win Over Powerful Elk Eleven

Warren High's Dragons battled to their sixth win of the season Saturday, downing a powerful Ridgway eleven 13-7 on Russell Field before the smallest attendance this year. The locals tallied twice in the second period and held a 13-0 margin at halftime, the Elks staging an uphill fight in the last half only to score once following an outstanding aerial attack.

J. B. Leidig's crew proved too much for the Elk County boys although the Ridgwayites let loose with a magnificent aerial battle in the last half which tallied the Dragon advances in that half. The Warren eleven opened the first stanza with an undaunted ground attack, advancing from their own 24 to the Ridgway 7-yard stripe, the advance led by Warren's Powerhouse Red Lee who opened up with a 40-yard run from the local's 30 to the Elks' 30. The Leidigmen were halted on Ridgway's six and the Elks took over and kicked to George Lucia on the Ridgway 37. The quarter ended with the local high schoolers on their opponents' 20 yard line.

The first tally of the contest came on the second play of the second stanza, George Lucia uncorking a 30 yard touchdown pass to Red Lee, Bob Scalsie plunging for the extra point putting the locals in front, 7-0. From then until a few minutes before the end of the first half play was nip-and-tuck.

The Leidigmen's second tally came when Captain Mac Sirianni, big center for the Dragons, intercepted a Ridgway pass on the Warren 45 stripe and galloped fifty-five yards for the touchdown, the half ending with the Warren team in front by a 13 point margin.

At halftime, the Warren High School band marched onto the field and executed the Ridgway "R" and the Dragon "D" along with spec-

Falcons Trample Jamestown In Lop-sided Thriller at Red and Green's Stadium

Jamestown High School's supposedly outstanding football eleven was handed a sound 34-0 trouncing Friday night by the undefeated Falcons at the Jamestown Senior Hi Stadium. Only once did the Red and Green crew threaten to score only to be stopped by one of the most remarkable clubs in this section. The Falcons outplayed and outsmarted the Jamestowners in practically every minute of the game, scoring once in the second period, twice in the third, and two more times in the fourth stanza.

In the opening stanza the play was nip-and-tuck with the cold weather handicapping both teams. Came the second quarter and the Falcons unleashed such a powerful attack that the Red and Green could do nothing but fight a losing battle. Having taken a 14-13 decision over Warren, who tied the Jamestown crew, the Falconer boys took their first win from Jamestown in the ancient series. At half time the Falcons were out in front, 7-0.

The second half witnessed an undaunted aerial attack which forced the Red and Green into absolute defeat. The Jamestowners could do nothing. Restive, Jamestown's stellar back was unable to accomplish any distance in the thriller. The Moonmen completed one pass in the encounter, but he Falcons passed, successfully, repeatedly. Youngsville Loses To Owls 13-0 After Stubborn Battle

Bradford High School Owls had one of the toughest assignments of the year Friday night in defeating Bob Jewell's Youngsville Eagles, 13-0. The Owls tallied twice in the first half and were forced to expand their power to the utmost to down the scrappy Eagles.

The Pflugmen scored touchdowns on two long runs, the first a 31 yard run and the tally a few plays later, and the final score on a 35 yard touchdown gallop. Although the Owls were complete masters of the ground gaining attacks, the Youngsville boys let loose with some passes that almost scored for them.

Loivison, Eagle left halfback, was the key man for the Warren County boys. His end run proved a detriment to the Owl machine. The Jewellmen have had to battle some of the toughest teams in

HERE AND THERE
Homer Fleming, former physical director at Beatty Junior High School and football and basketball coach, will take over the duties as physical instructor at the Community Y M. C. A. in West Springfield, Massachusetts, on January 1st. Fleming has been the Athletic director at the Vine-land, N. J. Senior High School. The High School cagers go into action two weeks from today.

Several former high school athletes now in service are home on furloughs: Jim McMillan, Bob Bonace, and Bud Fielder, all former basketballers. . . . Rabbit Swanson, one of Warren's foremost baseball teachers, has done himself proud with his Struthers Wells, baseball players. Vesling goes to Batavia, McLean with a St. Louis farm club, and Johnny Kane, now in the Army, was at Hornell. . . . Congratulations to Bill Martin, Struthers baseballer, who was married recently. . . . The lack of pinstickers in the community's bowling alleys still prevails. . . . The other night at one of the town's alleys, the bowlers started to razz some of the setters, but lost a losing battle to the pinboys who added some grease to the balls before returning them to the bowlers.

WEEKEND FOOTBALL GAMES
Give Bob Jewell plenty of credit for producing one of the best grid teams in the Youngsville history. They were defeated by but only 13 points by the Bradford Owls Friday night. The Owls topped Warren by 13 points also. . . . It is interesting to note that Sheffield defeated Youngsville, Youngsville triumphed over Kane, and Kane trounced Sheffield. . . . We are wondering what would have happened to the Dragons' Saturday if Sheffield had had the services of their star passer. . . . This corner is of the belief that Notre Dame was exceedingly lucky in their 13-7 win over Illinois. . . . Corry's 45-7 loss at the hands of Johnsonburg Saturday night rates the Dragons over the Beavers in the Armistice Day clash. The Leidigmen romped to a 26-0 victory over the Johnsonburg eleven. . . . Erie Academy's highly rated grid eleven was held to a 6-6 tie by Erie Tech over the weekend. . . . Sharpville took Grove City for the first time in five years. . . . Also the Falconer win over Jamestown was the first win in the series for Falconer.

WHAT...

A Woman Loan Manager?

SURE—why not? I'll admit, up to December 7, 1941, it would have been a bit unusual to find a woman running a large loan office—but today, with women ferrying bombers, welding at shipyards, and making munitions, 'Personal' feels there's certainly nothing unusual about having a woman loan manager.

And neither do I! For after all, I have had 15 years of experience lending money to folks, and I've learned how honest and willing people are to pay their debts. Lending cash to hundreds of people every day from coast to coast has taught 'Personal' how to do it. We get a lot of satisfaction out of giving good service.

'Personal' cuts out all fuss and makes it a simple matter to get cash, from $10 to $250 or more, on just signature, furniture or auto.

Special Loan Service
We give special attention to women who need loans, and we try to make it as convenient as possible for folks who find it hard to come in. Loans can be made by mail or in just one visit to the office. Why not, come in today and ask for me by name.

TIMELY BOOKLET

Warren Bank and Trust Company has been able to secure a limited supply of a booklet which should be very valuable to veterans of this War and their families. It is entitled "Helping the Veteran Help Himself", and is a concise and informative guide to the rights, privileges, benefits and opportunities now available to veterans of World War II. The bank has it for free distribution to all who ask for it, as long as the supply holds out.

HAD TWO ALARMS

Firemen today had two alarms. One this morning sent them to 326 Water street where smoke in an attic required their attention. There was no fire. This afternoon they were called to 609 Fifth avenue where two children, one 4½ and the other 5 were playing with matches. They started a bon fire against the side of a vacant house. The flames had gained some headway but were quenched by use of the booster line from a truck.

Canadians advanced into Goes, the island's main communications center. (The American broadcasting station in Europe reported that Goes had fallen.) Some 3,900 prisoners of the island's 11,000 garrison had been taken by the Canadians.

Striking from the vicinity of the Dutch border city of Venlo German units continued their attacks yesterday against American troops along the east side of the Allies' Holland salient.

Far to the south, American Seventh Army troops captured Jussarupt, 13 miles east of the French city of Epinal, but Berlin claimed recapture of the dominating heights in the Bois de Madelaine, 22 miles northeast of Epinal.

Among American vessels, Nimble proudly announced, were five battleships "seriously damaged at Pearl Harbor"—the West Virginia, Maryland, Tennessee, California and Pennsylvania, and three new carriers named for Japanese-sunk predecessors—the Lexington, Wasp and Hornet.

The Japanese lost at least 171 aircraft while American losses were 16 planes, eight pilots and ten air crewmen in the battle zone of Formosa. Nimitz said air losses in other engagements, not completely reported, were "light."

terday with a leisurely afternoon train ride through the mountains of West Virginia. He made one platform appearance—at Clarksburg—but he announced to the crowd he wasn't thinking about politics on Sunday. Instead he talked of trees—conservation and reforestation.

It was a quiet contrast to be barred political address he delivered to tens of thousands of shouting Chicagoans in Soldier Field Saturday night.

New York, Oct. 30.—(P)—Robert E. Hannegan, Democratic national chairman, told a press conference today he was confident that President Roosevelt will carry both New York and Massachusetts, which have a total of 63 electoral votes.

Hannegan, who yesterday visited Boston, where the president will speak Saturday night, said he was told the president will "positively carry the state."

The national chairman said that President Roosevelt would make two platform appearances—at Bridgeport, Conn.; Hartford, Conn. and Springfield, Mass., en route to Boston, and would probably speak briefly in all three places.

The president may also make a brief appearance at New Haven, Hannegan said.

JAP WAR PRISONERS KILLED IN UPRISING

Denver, Oct. 30.—(P)—Three Japanese naval prisoners, who more than two months ago failed in a suicide attempt, were shot and killed at Fitzsimons General Hospital last night as they rushed their guards in an attempted uprising.

Gen. McQuade said a board of officers would investigate. A guard is being held in technical detention.

The three Japanese, who were captured in the south Pacific, sought to commit hara-kiri last August 11. Two slashed themselves across the abdomen and the third inflicted a cut on his head, but the attempt failed when guards found them in time and they were treated by physicians.

All three were tuberculosis patients.

Hundred Boys Attend YMCA Spook Party

Approximately one hundred boys shivered through the Hall of Horrors and cavorted in the gym at the Halloween Party given by the Boys Department of the YMCA last Friday night from seven to nine o'clock.

One of the highlights of the evening's program was the magic show presented by Joe Fuelhart. He did everything from finding selected cards in balloons to pulling live rabbits out of empty boxes. For a full thirty minutes the boys enthusiastically responded to his wizardry.

Before the masqueraders were admitted to the gym they were led through the Hall of Horrors. Clammy hands, streaky spider webs, corpses, and other denizens of the dark enlivened the journey of the boys as they crawled and climbed their way through the locker rooms.

After they were all gathered in the gym, a grand march was held during which a committee of older boys judged the many and varied costumes. It many instances the judges were hard pressed to determine the best costume but their final selections were as follows: Johan Stohl was the best woman, Clyde Smith was the cleverest, Ronald Trawick was the funniest, David Woodruff was the most ferocious, Chuck Irvine was the most beautiful.

As the boys were gathering in the gym, they bobbed for apples, competed in games, and generally enjoyed themselves to the fullest. After the fun in the gym they went to the banquet hall where they saw a series of movie cartoons. The evening was brought to an end with the serving of candy, doughnuts, and soda pop.

The Halloween Party was under the direction of Lloyd Shirk, Program Secretary, who was assisted by Russell, Nason, Dave Spies, Delbert Smith, Jim Richards and Jim Arrell of the Senior Hi-Y Club of Warren High School; Jack Lesser, LeLand Daye, Bill Fuelhart, Louie Chimenti, Bob Pring, Donald Duckett and Bob Gibb of the Young Men's Department of the YWCA, and Chuck Cochner, Chuck Sires, Jim Eckman, Stewart Johnson, Bill Grosch, Clyde Smith, John Elliot, Bob Lauffenberger, Donald Wilcox, Dean Blair, Harry Danielson, Karl Smith and Johan Stohl of the Leaders Corps of the Boys Department.

Mobilization Test For Co. 1 is Success

The 16th Infantry Pennsylvania State Guard, held a test mobilization on Saturday, October 28. The test came as a complete surprise both to the officers and the enlisted men.

The order to mobilize was received by telephone at 6:15 o'clock from Lt. Col. E. C. McCrea, of Oil City.

The Third Battalion, 16th Infantry, under command of Major Arthur Dickinson, with companies at Warren, Kane, and Bradford, reported back to Lt. Col. McCrea at 8:30 p. m., with 75 per cent. of its men in the Armories and in uniform, ready to move out. The remainder having been contacted in war plants and would have been ready in an emergency.

This was an excellent turnout in view of the fact that many of the men live on farms and in outlying communities.

TO THE FARMERS OF WARREN COUNTY!

Dear Farmer:

Let's Look at the Record!

In 1932 you were receiving 90c per cwt. for your milk, 15c per doz. for your eggs, 5c per lb. for your pork, 15c per bu. for your wool and 30c per bu. for potatoes, etc., and then something happened—our National Administration was changed. The Administration which had not given any consideration to these facts or had not made any attempt to improve them was discontinued and a new start was made under a new administration. Then many changes began to take place which have, since that time, proven to be very beneficial to the farmers.

The lending policy of the Federal Land Bank was liberalized and larger loans could be secured and the interest rate reduced. Did that help you? The Land Bank Commissioner Loan was put into effect, which further liberalized loans. Did that help you? The Production Credit Associations were established. Did that help you? Then Farm Security Administration was established. Has this helped you? Then Rural Electrification came into existence and many farms were provided with electric current where the Republican-dominated utilities had never seen fit to provide current, even at their exorbitant rates. Now electricity is available to all farms at a reasonable rate. Don't you like electricity much better than you did the old kerosene lantern? Has this helped you? Then along came the AAA program, which assisted greatly in securing time and fertilizer and encouraged you to grow more legume hay. We now see fields of clover growing on land that, previous to the AAA program, grew only wild hay and weeds. Has this helped you? When the cost of production increased on your milk, along came the Department of Agriculture with a Dairy Feed Subsidy payment on the amount of milk you produce, in addition to the payment received for your milk from the milk company. Has this helped you? You were asked to grow more commercial vegetables and potatoes and were guaranteed a price for your potatoes when you had more potatoes than you could sell. These were taken off your hands by the Government at a fair price. Did this help you?

Are your taxes higher than they were in 1932? Does this look as if the farmer had been the forgotten man? Would you like to lose any of the benefits of the above programs?

What reason do you have to believe these programs would even be continued if Governor Dewey were elected President and Governor Bricker elected Vice-President?

After wallowing around in the depths of the worst depression ever known to the farmer during the Hoover Administration (and Dewey is sponsored by Hoover), the farmer who votes Republican can only base his vote on HOPE and HOPE alone.

There is nothing in the record of any Republican Administration to indicate that an attempt was ever made to provide any legislation that would be beneficial to the farmer.

Do not vote for HOPE. Vote for performance. Vote for President Roosevelt and the entire Democratic Ticket and insure yourself the continuance of the type of Government which has proved so beneficial to you.

Sincerely,

Warren County Democratic Committee.

JOHN O. HANNA, Chairman.

RUSSELL

Russell, Oct. 4—The following officers of the Youth Fellowship have been elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, Patricia Wood; 1st commissioner, Betty Wheelock; 2nd commissioner, Elwood Beckwith; 3rd commissioner, Kenneth Pearson; 4th commissioner, Gilbert Pearson; secretary and treasurer, Mary Branstrom; pianist, Glynette Wall.

A party was given at the church Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Arthur Briggs Jr. Mrs. Chester Anderson and Mrs. Jespersen. A turkey supper was served at 6:30 o'clock after which the following program was presented. Talks by Rev. Philip Schlick, a poem with the help by Margery Randall, duet by Margery and Margaret Jansdell, piano solo by Norene Holt, solo by Lola Wilkins. The honor guests were presented gifts. It has been reported that 345 pieces of used and new clothing were collected here for the countries in the European area during the drive to send clothing to those countries.

The regular meeting of the Women's Benefit Association will be at the home of Mrs. Ida Kingsley, on Monday evening, Oct. 30th.

Mrs. Jay Wiltse left Wednesday for St. Louis Mo., to spend a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Richard Schlick, later she will go to Chicago where Mr. and Mrs. Schlick are moving this week and spend a week there.

The losing side of a contest of the Firemen Auxiliary entertained the "Winners" at a party at the Firemen's Hall Tuesday evening. All came masked in Halloween costume. One new member, Mrs. Diemer was enrolled. Mrs. R. S. Thompson won first prize for the best costume and Mrs. B. F. Bax-ville; Umpire, Moore, Reynolds; and Head Linesman, Foti, Jamestown.
